Leprosy fortnight is an annual event celebrated from January 30 to February 13. The Department of DVL, KIMS & RC organized leprosy fortnight programme this year. The events began on January 30 with the leprosy oath taking ceremony, conducted in the department demonstration hall, where patients, staff members and students took an oath to work towards elimination of leprosy and creating a stigma free supportive environment for leprosy patients.

Following this, on February 07, a medical camp was conducted in association with the CLTRI, Chengalpattu at the community hall. The medical camp was well attended and many people came forward to get themselves physically examined by experienced doctors. Staff members and postgraduate students in the medical team provided necessary treatment and counseling to them.

In addition, a CME was conducted on the topic "Leprosy- recognition to resolution" in the CME hall of KIMS & RC. Department heads from CLTRI, Chengalpattu and Head of the Pathology department of KIMS & RC were the speakers.

Targeted audience were the UG and PG medical students of KIMS & RC and faculties. The CME was well attended and highlighted the multidisciplinary approach to leprosy care.
